"Get everything and leave its evaluation to posterity."

IN the year 1886 I issued a Catalogue of Wigan and District Books and Pamphlets. Since that date by purchase and donation a large amount of material has accumulated, and the scope of the Collection has greatly extended. Its value to the local historian must always be important, the motto placed at the head of these forewords, chosen by the eminent bibliographer, Mr. W. C. Berwick Sayers, fitly describing the method of its acquisition. To that motto I would append the one upon our Reference Library bookplate: "Ubi mel, ibi apes."
